

KIDNAP SCARE AT CAPITAL: BABY LINDBERGH NOT FOUND

GRANDDAUGHTER
OF T. R. OBJECT
OF POLICE GUARD

Son Of British Paper's
Representative Is Also Threatened

Washington, March 25—(UP)—The police investigation of kidnapping threats against the daughter of Alice Roosevelt Longworth and the son of Sir Wilmott Lewis, centered today at the Washington Marine barracks.

Detectives found that a Marine Sergeant disappeared a few days ago. In his quarters they found paper similar to that on which notes demanding money were written to Mrs. Longworth and to Sir Wilmott.

Samples of the writing of all typewriters in the barracks were taken for comparison with the typewriting of the notes.

Washington, Mar. 25—(AP)—A police guard was removed from the home of Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth today at her request but there was no let-up in the watch over the home of Sir Wilmott Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times, nor in the search for the sender of extortion notes to them.

While the notes to the widow of the former Speaker of the House did not contain a direct threat against her daughter, Pauline, the child is being kept under constant watch.

The letters to Sir Wilmott were more direct. They demanded $1,500 and threatened his five-year-old son, Wilmott, Jr., if the money were not paid.

Police said about a dozen other prominent persons in the Capitol had been threatened by similar letters in recent weeks.

The kidnap scare swept the Capitol after police disclosed that extortion notes, accompanied by threats, had been received by Mrs. Longworth, Sir Wilmott Lewis, Ben Lyon, of the movies and others.

Predict An Arrest.
Police, however, predicted an early arrest. They were working on the theory that one man was responsible for several if not all of the threats.

A police guard was placed at Sir Lewis' home, and detectives also are watching Mrs. Longworth's. She, too, was told to pay $1,500 but Pauline was not threatened directly. Definite instructions were received by her twice as to how to pay the money. An agent followed the instructions, driving slowly in a taxi by the chosen spot for depositing the amount, but the promised signal from the extortionist did not develop, and the affair fell through.

Threats To Point.
The Lewis case bothered police most as the threats have been direct and to the point, with two letters and a telephone call. The notes in this and the Longworth case were taken to the Bureau of Standards for a comparison to determine whether one person was responsible for both.

In the case of Ben Lyon, a note demanding $500 and threatening the safety of his child was received by him recently while at the local hotel with his wife, Bebe Daniels. The note was in California. The letter was signed A. A. Carpenter and requested an answer in care of General Delivery. A trap at the post-office failed to catch anyone, however.

This note and several others, police believe, were the work of cranks. They would not disclose the information which led them to expect an arrest in the two important cases.

Kiwanis Farmers
Meeting Tuesday

The regular weekly meeting of the Dixon Kiwanis club at noon next Tuesday will be dispensed with and an evening meeting will be conducted at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Nachusa. This will be the annual Farmers Meeting of the club and any who desire to attend, whether members or not, is urged to make reservations at once by notifying Secretary W. J. Sullivan. It is expected that there will be as many farmers as Kiwanians at the meeting and a fine program has been arranged. Stunts will be furnished by both the club members and the farmers. The speaker of the evening will be F. J. Hansen, Director of Public Relations of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company who will talk upon present conditions in Russia.

South's Storm Babe
Ill With Pneumonia

Montgomery, Ala. March 25—(AP)—Casualties in the south's most disastrous storm stood today at 354 dead, more than 2,000 injured and with 7,000 homeless. American Red Cross and American Legion authorities today were bringing aid and relief to the terror-stricken communities. Meanwhile the 16-month-old "storm baby" found half a mile from any house, near Clinton, was identified as Hazel Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Butler. She is ill with pneumonia.

Eluded Police
To Demonstrate
Crash-Proof Plane

Grasse, France, March 25—(AP)—A French inventor, Albert Sauvant, evaded police long enough to crack up purposely in his "crash proof" airplane, and was alive to day to pronounce it a success.

Sauvant has long been trying to test his ship, which was modelled on a strange shock-absorbing theory, but every time he tried to ride it into a nose dive, the police interfered to keep him from "committing suicide."

As if to show them it was all right, Sauvant made a model plane and crashed it with a lamb inside. The lamb survived the ordeal, but even then the police demurred.

Sauvant insisted. The police removed the wings and landing gear on the premise that thus stripped an airplane is not an airplane.

But they did not reckon on M. Sauvant's determination. Yesterday he secretly took what remained of the plane to a cliff at Escargolles, 18 miles from here, and had himself pushed off to the ground, 150 feet below.

The big fuselage dropped like a plummet and was demolished, but the 28-year-old Sauvant emerged smiling from the debris, unhurt and to his position, vindicated in his five years of experimental work.

The principle of Sauvant's plane is a carefully guarded secret so far as it applies to mechanical operation.

Funeral Of Mrs.
Sam Moore Monday

Mrs. Sam Moore, formerly Joanna Kelly, daughter of the late Patrick and Ellen Kelly, passed away at 6:30 Thursday morning in a hospital at Omaha, where she has made her home for the past several years. She was receiving treatment preparatory to a colic operation when pneumonia developed. The body will be brought to Dixon, arriving at 5 o'clock this evening and will be taken to the home of her brother, P. C. Kelly. Funeral services will be conducted from the Kelly home Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30, with burial in the family lot in Oakwood cemetery.

A police guard was placed at Sir Lewis' home, and detectives also are watching Mrs. Longworth's. She, too, was told to pay $1,500 but Pauline was not threatened directly. Definite instructions were received by her twice as to how to pay the money. An agent followed the instructions, driving slowly in a taxi by the chosen spot for depositing the amount, but the promised signal from the extortionist did not develop, and the affair fell through.

LOESCH CHARGES
WILL BE PROBED
BY GRAND JURY

Cook County Prosecutor
To Summon Crusader
For Inquisition

Chicago, Mar. 25—(AP)—United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, who obtained the Al Capone income tax conviction, said today he will summon Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission, before the federal Grand Jury April 13 to give "any facts he may have" linking one of Johnson's assistants with the Capone syndicate.

Loesch, an 80-year-old crusader against crime, has been vigorously supporting the nomination of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, who sentenced Capone, to the Circuit Court of Appeals here. He recently wrote to Senator William B. Borah of Idaho that William Parillo one of Johnson's assistants and a candidate for Republican ward committeeman here, is a "known partisan of Capone."

April 13 is one day after the election primaries here. Johnson's state "mer" recalled that fact. It said Parillo's work had been "credible and satisfactory for four years," that he had "never heard from Mr. Loesch" on the charges, and that he had "always brought anyone who made statements reflecting on the conduct of assistants before the grand jury."

Parillo conferred with Johnson and then said, "Mr. Loesch's statement will not go unchallenged."

He has been in charge of the federal inquisition department for the last year.

TO CALL JOHNSON
Washington, March 25—(AP)—The Senate Judiciary subcommittee considering the nomination to the Circuit Court of Judge James H. Wilkerson of Chicago decided today to call District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson in a further investigation of the appointment.

Chairman Borah said the committee had decided to invite Johnson in connection with some matters mentioned in the letter received from Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission. Johnson prosecuted Al Capone, who was sentenced by Wilkerson to 11 years in the penitentiary for tax evasion.

Borah would not reveal why Mr. Johnson was being called or what part of the Loesch letter the committee wanted to question him about.

Loesch said that organized gangdom in Chicago was seeking to release Capone through control of the public officials and urged confirmation of Wilkerson to aid law enforcement.

He said rejection of the nomination would be claimed by the underworld organizations of Chicago as another victory.

Forty Men Taken
Off Lake Ice Floe

Oshkosh, Wis., March 25—(UP)—Forty fishermen, marooned on an ice floe in Lake Winnebago, were rescued by a five-man squad last night as the floe was breaking up. The heroic work was carried out during a blinding snowstorm and while mountainous waves lashed at the one boat that was used.

Chunks broke off the floe as the boat plied back and forth, transferring the fishermen to the mainland. The last trip was made just as darkness fell.

Senators' Showdown
Is Set For April 14

Washington, March 25—(UP)—Senate committee to amend or repeal the 18th Amendment and ten bills to modify the Volstead act was set today to begin April 1.

Chairman Blaine of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee which will hold hearings on wet proposals said it had been impossible to fix an earlier date because some witnesses wanted a fortnight to prepare briefs for repeal.

The hearings are part of the Senate wet's program to obtain a showdown vote next month on a wet and dry issue.

Rockford Grocer
An Alleged Fence

Rockford, Ill., March 25—(UP)—Tony Tangorra, grocer whose store has been bombed twice recently, was to be taken to Freeport this afternoon for arraignment in United States District Court on a warrant charging him with receiving stolen goods. Tangorra, federal authorities alleged, served as a "fence" for an organized burglary ring operating throughout northern Illinois. The two bombings were attributed to attempts of rivals to muscle in on his activities.

CONTINUE HUNT
FOR "HIT-SKIP"
AUTO OPERATOR

Mendotan, Victim Of
Crash, Determined
To Locate Him

Everett Holliston of Mendota, who a few days ago was released from the Dixon public hospital, where with his wife he spent several days recovering from serious injuries sustained in an automobile crash south of Dixon, last week, today announced his intention of hunting down the driver of the "hit-and-skip" car which caused the accident.

"Had the driver of the car coming toward Dixon which struck our car, causing the accident and then speeding away, without making any effort to stop and ascertain the amount of damage, showed any inclination to stop and lend some aid at that early hour of the morning, the accident might have been excused. Instead he sped on without stopping and I am starting a search, which I intend to continue until he is located," Mr. Holliston, who is well known in Dixon, stated to the Telegraph today.

"I could possibly excuse an accident, but the deliberate action of this driver has caused me to take this action. I have already secured information which I consider of great value in bringing about his apprehension, and I intend to carry on until he is found, regardless of what state he resides in."

Mr. and Mrs. Holliston are now convalescing from their injuries at their home in Mendota. The accident, which resulted in the overturning of the Holliston car, took place on state highway, route 2, a mile south of Dixon, about 2:30 Tuesday morning, March 15. Another couple, occupants of the car, were also badly injured and the machine almost demolished.

Chivingtons Keep School In Family—

Denver, March 25—(UP)—The Chivingtons keep their school in the family.

The state's school records today revealed the existence of Chivington school, in Moffat county.

A check of other records showed that the school had four pupils—all little Chivingtons, that Mrs. Chivington drew a salary of $125 a month as their teacher, while her husband drew $10 a month as secretary of the school board, and was paid $16 for making a school census.

Good Friday Is Observed Today

Rome, March 25—(AP)—Prone at the altars of Rome's 400 churches, black-robed Catholic priests today commemorated Good Friday, the anniversary of the death of Christ.

In America, Europe, Asia and Africa, priests and bishops and churchmen of the highest rank prostrated themselves at that point in the ritual which recorded the death of their spiritual leader.

Processions of the faithful here this morning went to the churches of St. Peter's, St. John's, and Holy Cross, where relics of Christ's passion and death were on display.

Thousands crowded the holy stairs next to St. John Lateran church. These they believed were the stairs Christ ascended in Pontius Pilate's house after he had been crowned with thorns. Tradition has it that St. Helena, mother of the first Christian emperor of Rome, Constantine, brought them to Rome from Jerusalem.

Work—Let There Be Work!

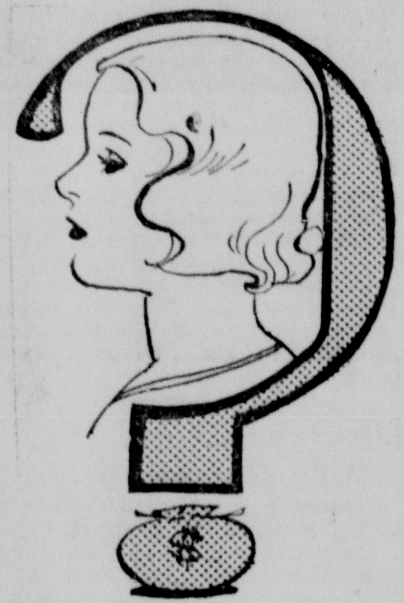

War Against Depression asks a million employers to give an unemployed American a job and that is THE MAIN AIM, for regular, steady jobs are needed to break the back of depression.

But UNITED ACTION for employment, waging this war, finds that the ingenuity of the American people is being stifled into action by the campaign to create jobs in remarkable ways.

There is the "pied piper" of Little Rock, Ark., United Action in that city has got back of Merlin Moore of Pine Bluff and Little Rock families are asked to call upon him for pest extermination. The mayor even designated a "rat and mouse day" as part of the campaign for employment.

In Iowa designated a day as United Action for Employment "responsibility day" upon which day EACH citizen was urged to assume definite responsibility to the community and to the unemployed.

In Carrizozo, New Mexico, established ranchers gave employment to stranded newcomers

Maybe Frieda Kley's face has been her fortune heretofore, but from now on—

Well, if you really want to know what was in the long-sought treasure box which Frieda, Wash Tubbs and Rip O'Day found in the old castle, turn to the comic page and read, "WASH TUBBS."

MILLER FACING
OKLA. COURT

Action Will Follow
His Shooting At
Two Lawyers

BULLETIN

Newkirk, Okla., March 25—(UP)—Col. Zack Miller, who used his shotgun yesterday to drive from his 101 Ranch "White House" two receiver-ship attorneys, was arraigned today on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

The pioneer showman and rancher, his voice trembling with emotion, pleaded not guilty.

Marland, Okla., Mar. 25—(AP)—Col. Zack Miller faced criminal prosecution today for armed defiance of the auctioneer's hammer as it was lifted over his beloved 101 Ranch.

Bruce Potter, Kay County Attorney, said a charge of assault with a deadly weapon would be filed against Miller, last of the three brothers who developed the great ranch into a show place, for firing a shotgun at attorneys for the receiver sought a conference with him yesterday.

Miller, who has been ill, discharged the weapon into the floor after Neal Sullivan and R. O. Wilson, the attorneys, had entered the "White House," ranch mansion.

The lawyers pushed out and Miller barricaded himself in the house with Zelma, "Elephant Girl" in the 101 Wild West Show, who has been his nurse.

Later the rancher admitted County Attorney Potter, telling him he fired only to "scare" Sullivan and learn if he was armed. Potter placed Miller under arrest and said he would be arraigned at Newkirk as soon as he is physically able to appear.

Miller termed auction of the ranch properties "legal robbery."

"They're giving my stuff away," he protested. "They're not going to take me out of this house."

UNITED ACTION
CAMPAIGN HERE
GREAT SUCCESS

Expenditure Of $127,579
Before June 1 Was Pledged In City

The unemployment prosperity drive, which was conducted last week under the sponsorship of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion with the assistance of a general committee from local fraternal, patriotic and civic organizations, the city council and business and professional men, has been completed and has met with wonderful success. The total amount of expenditures pledged for employment and purchases of any kind, except the ordinary living needs, this amount of money to be expended before June 1, 1932.

The public in the city of Dixon is to be congratulated upon the manner in which they received the workers, who so generously gave their time and efforts to make the drive the success that it was. The committee in charge feels that the drive is going to stimulate employment and business in the city and locality.

The United Action campaign that is being sponsored by the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor and other organizations has placed thousands of men and women in positions throughout the country, and the local campaign followed the same line of action. The result of the drive locally was far in excess of the original expectations and exceeded the efforts of many other cities larger than Dixon.

Some Misinformed.
Members of the general committee reported today that it has come to their attention that information has been given out regarding pledges made by individuals, which is contrary to the plan. It was stated at the beginning of the drive that no individual would be published or made public, only the total amount being made known.

The local American Legion post is continuing the headquarters at the club rooms, which are open from 8 to 12 o'clock each morning for the purpose of conducting a register for the unemployed. It was reported today that a total of 61 men and seven women have registered at the Dixon headquarters for work. Out of this number, ten have been given some kind of temporary employment. The Legion is continuing this service for the benefit of those who have pledged to have some kind of work done, but have made no selection of workers. It is the plan to place men and women on jobs where the employer does not have any one in mind to do his particular kind of work.

The Dixon post of the American Legion and the members of the general committee in charge of the prosperity drive, wish to convey their thanks to the citizens of Dixon for their cooperation, the workers who secured the pledges, and to the Evening Telegraph for cooperation in this most successful and worthy campaign.

Weatherman Will Make No Promise

Washington, Mar. 25—(AP)—The weather man shook his head doubtfully today when he was approached on the subject of Easter.

"It may be warm and rainy," he said rather sadly. "Or it may be fair and colder."

Smoothing out his weather charts, he showed that showers will set in tomorrow and continue until tomorrow night over most of the United States.

The doubt in his mind is whether a disturbance now over the Dakotas and Montana will swing eastward rapidly enough to pass over there by tomorrow night, leaving fair skies and cooler breezes for Sunday.

If the colder weather comes, virtually the entire country east of the Mississippi will have fair weather except along the Great Lakes where light rains and snows may fall.

This particular weather man has States leaving it to his colleagues there to run the risk of a wrong prediction.

Fire Chief William Mitchell issued a warning to motorists today, calling attention to the practice of driving over fire hose. While a police officer was on duty stopping some cars which rushed to the scene of the fire, other drivers violated the ordinance and drove their machines over the hose, thus hampering the firemen in their attempt to extinguish the flames.

LINDBERGH IS NOT IMPRESSED
WITH NEW STORY

No Specific Significance
In Tale Of Norfolk Men

Norfolk, Va., March 25—(AP)—Despite official announcement from the Lindbergh home in Hopewell, N. J., that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh did not consider information about his kidnapped baby furnished by three Virginians important, one of those informants said today, early return of the baby was expected.

The three men who went from here to tell Col. Lindbergh of indications the baby was on a yacht in Chesapeake Bay and would be returned through them are the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, and John Hughes, Curtis.

"We not only hope but expect the completion of negotiations within a few days," Dean Dobson-Peacock said today.

He expressed fear that publicity given the new phase in the famous case might jeopardize "a good clue" but reiterated his belief that all would still turn out satisfactorily.

"We had hoped for an early and a happy solution," he said. "And such is still our hope."

Hopewell, N. J., March 25—(AP)—Police at the Lindbergh home announced today that Col. Lindbergh himself had come to the conclusion that information brought by the three citizens of Norfolk, Va., had "no specific significance" in the investigation of the kidnapping.

When Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of state police, was first told yesterday of the report that the Norfolk men had information indicating the baby might be on a yacht in Chesapeake Bay he said it was "absolutely untrue."

In his night bulletin from the Lindbergh home, where he is in general charge of the police search for the kidnapers, Schwartzkopf modified this statement. He said then that the Norfolk men had been to the Lindbergh house on Tuesday and that their information had been investigated and found to have no "specific significance."

It was generally supposed that the case was simply a "red herring" conclusion, but today the Police Chief announced that he had been speaking for Col. Lindbergh, that Col. Lindbergh had had the investigation made himself, and that Col. Lindbergh still believed the information from Virginia to have no "specific significance."

"No Negotiations"

"The Rev. Dobson-Peacock and two other citizens of Norfolk are not negotiating for the return of the baby so far as the police authorities at Hopewell know," Schwartzkopf said in his formal morning bulletin today, issued just after his statement that Col. Lindbergh and not himself was the source of the "no specific significance" conclusion.

"They visited Col. Lindbergh and gave him information which on investigation was found to have no specific significance in this investigation."

"There is no positive evidence of any kind indicating that the kidnapers fled by way of the Delaware river or Chesapeake Bay. The Coast Guard along Chesapeake Bay has made no report to these headquarters."

Although he made no mention of this in his formal bulletin, Schwartzkopf told reporters that police were now looking for a third man besides Harry Fleischer and Abie Wagner, whom he has referred to as "known kidnapers." He refused to disclose the identity of the third man sought.

Man Freed On Plea Of Insanity, Sane

Valparaiso, Ind., Mar. 25.—(AP)—John Rork of Pontiac, Ill., survivor of a suicide pact which resulted in the death of his former wife on Oct. 31, 1930, on the Dunes Highway, was found sane in Porter Circuit Court today by Judge Grant Crumpacker. He will be released.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS INJECTED THE HOUSE MAY VOTE SECOND TIME ON DRY QUESTIONS

Tax On Beer of 2.75 Alcoholic Content Held In Order

BULLETIN

Washington, March 25.—(UP)—A proposal for a tax on beer was defeated in the House today after veto had made a spectacular demonstration with demands for the abolition of prohibition.

Anti-prohibitionists injected the prohibition issue during consideration of the billion dollar revenue bill, now being reshaped after elimination of its sales tax provisions.

The beer tax amendment was defeated by a vote of 216 to 132. The vote was concluded at 3:29 P. M.

Washington, Mar. 25.—(AP)—For the second time this session, the House pressed toward a vote on prohibition.

Such an uproar greeted the announcement by the chair that a vote on an amendment to tax 2.75 per cent beer three cents a pint that the Sergeant-at-Arms was called upon the floor to clear the aisles of members.

The amendment was brought forward by Representative Cullen, (D. N. Y.) It called for such a tax on beer manufactured under permits from the Treasury.

The ruling was contested by several prohibitionists, among them Blanton (D. Tex.) and Hoch (R. Kan.) They argued that beer was outlawed by the Constitution and that an amendment to tax an illegal article was not permissible.

Representative Bankhead (D. Ala.) held the Supreme Court had not ruled that the eighteenth amendment forbade the manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer and that a vote might be had.

Under the procedure by which the House was working on the tax bill at the time, a roll call vote would not be in order. First would be a standing vote, and then a call for tellers by which representatives of each of the opposing sides would count the members voting for and against.

Fear Disorders In Ireland On Easter

Dublin, Irish Free State, March 25.—(AP)—Fearing a repetition of the bitter fighting which marked the Easter rebellion of 1916, the authorities have ordered all troops of the Free State Army confined to barracks on Easter day when the Irish Republican Army more active since the Fianna Fail election victory, will march in commemoration of the rebellion.

For the first time in years there will be only a few Irish Republican demonstrations in northern Ireland, but it was believed there would be an attempt to hold a meeting at Newry regarded as a danger point.

There will be another Republican gathering at Drumboe in East Donegal, where three men were executed during the civil war.

FIRE ON SUBMARINE

Vallejo, Cal., Mar. 25.—(AP)—Fire broke out in the submarine S-29 here today but was extinguished by the crew before the Navy Yard fire department reached the scene. Darrow Will Ask Continuance Today

Honolulu, T. H. March 25.—(UP)—Clarence Darrow 75-year-old veteran of many a famous legal battle apparently was determined to appear in Circuit Court today to plead the unwritten law for Honolulu's accused "honor slayers."

Although Darrow in a startling public statement was believed to have attacked the basic defense plea of "alarm clock insanity," the United Press learned authoritatively that this course has been decided upon definitely.

The new chief defense counsel from Chicago, fighting what may be his last "big case," was prepared to ask another continuance today in the start of the trial from March 28 to April 4. By that time, he said, he will be ready to appear for Mrs. Granville R. Fortescue, New York and Washington society matron, her son-in-law, L. Thomas H. Massie, and A. J. Lord and O. A. Jones, Navy enlisted men.

They are indicted on second degree murder charges in the slaying of Joe Kahahawai Jr., one of five islanders tried last December as the alleged attackers of Thalia Fortescue Massie, the Navy officer's young bride.

Divorcee Killed In Chicago Resort

Chicago, Mar. 25.—(UP)—Dorothy Evelyn Renshaw 23, Sioux City, Ia., a divorcee, was killed in a speakeasy today when a customer fired at a radio because he didn't like the music and the bullet went wild.

Miss Renshaw daughter of Deputy U. S. Marshal William Renshaw of Sioux City, died in a hospital, where she had been taken by Frank Taggart, an admirer, who admitted he was one of the owners of the beer flat.

Search was started for Earl McDowell, one of the patrons of the speakeasy, when Taggart told police that McDowell killed Miss Renshaw with the last of a half dozen shots he aimed in drunken anger at the radio.

STANFORD CO-EDS PICK HE-MAN STUDENT AS IDEAL

Palo Alto, Cal., —(UP)—The answer to a Stanford University co-ed's prayer is a tall, unshaved youth, who wears dirty "cords," uses a sweater for underwear, and who might very likely knock down his female companion if she displeases him.

That, at least, is what the co-eds indicated in a recent survey. Of the 500 girls in the school, 325 said they liked the rough, he-man type; 150 said they preferred the sleek, fashion-plate type, and 24 said they weren't particular so long as it was a man.

Child's Plea Wins Murderer Reprieve

Columbia, S. C., Mar. 25.—(AP)—The plea of a 10-year-old child that Governor Ibra Blackwood "give my daddy life" has given O. E. Howell of Sumter, 20 more days to live. Howell was sentenced to die in the electric chair April 8 for killing E. Hart Williams, filling station operator.

Howell's daughter, Gladys, here to visit her father in the state penitentiary, appeared before the governor and asked for clemency.

"I just want daddy to have life," she said. "I feel he ought to." The Governor thought over the matter and then announced he would reprieve Howell until April 29.

On branches, slender-brown.

Spring has come back? Forsythia is

In cherished gardens now it blooms
It stands on lowbrows in old rooms,

"MR." ANN HARDING TO OBTAIN DIVORCE

Hollywood, Mar. 25—(AP)—Guer-ney Newlin, attorney for Ann Harding, screen star, said today her husband, Harry Bannister, probably will file a divorce action in Reno within the next few days.

The two have announced their positions in Hollywood have become "untenable" due to Mrs. Harding's rise to stardom in the films and the fact that Bannister had "lost" his identity while aiding his wife. He has been given only minor roles.

Newlin said he had no definite information that Bannister would go to Reno, but that it was his belief that the husband will stop at the Nevada divorce mill enroute to New York.

OFFICERS IN UNIFORM.

It is becoming more apparent all the time that it is a mistake to send plain-clothes officers to patrol country highways.

A recent case in Ohio, similar to many previous ones, shows the sort of thing that is apt to happen. A business man was driving across the state, late at night, on a perfectly legitimate errand. Some deputy sheriffs were waiting by a roadside in a parked car, waiting to nab some law-breaker or other. The business man drove past and they cried out to him to stop.

Naturally enough, the man thought they were bandits and stepped on the gas. Equally naturally, they thought he was their quarry and gave chase, firing shots after him and finally overtaking him and crowding him into a ditch. After being held in jail for several hours the man was able to establish his identity and was permitted to go his way—feeling understandably disgruntled.

By good luck the affair did not have a tragic ending. It could have, very easily. The moral is clear; officers who patrol the highways at night must be plainly identifiable as officers.

WORTHLESS FORTUNES.

The miser is a phenomenon as old as civilization; and from the very beginning he has been a great puzzle.

There died in the middle west the other day an aged recluse who lived in a tiny apartment on a mean side street. To all appearances, he was just one notch above actual destitution. But when his effects were examined, after his death, it was found that he owned cash and securities worth upwards of $800,000.

Cases of this kind are continually coming to light, of course and there is nothing especially unusual in this one. But it does make one wonder, anew—"Why?" The money did the man no earthly good. It is now being divided among 39 cousins, and it is doubtful if he saved it on their account. It did him no good whatever. What can be the motive that makes a man treat his money that way?

THE BILLBOARD MENACE.

Motorists of New Zealand, organized in the South Island Motor Union, have started a campaign against roadside billboard advertising that American motorists might well copy.

The Union has voted to write to all firms which indulge in roadside advertising urging them to desist from defacing the countryside. If they refuse, the Union "will take action to compel them to do so," it said.

There, of course, is the weak spot of the campaign as far as the United States is concerned. If signs are erected on private property, with the owner's consent, there is little the public can do about it. Only an enlightened public opinion can be really effective. Meanwhile, however, a campaign such as this of New Zealand might help to focus public attention on a very annoying problem.

The Tynmites watched the town tots run up to them. "Gee, this will be great fun," cried Windy. "I hope all these tots have pennies they can spend. They know what this is all about. We'll sell a lot of things, no doubt. No wonder Mister Bakerman tells us he is their friend."

Then, when the bakery wagon stopped, out on the ground the Tynmites hopped. "Don't be impatient, youngsters," shouted Scouty with a grin. "We have enough for all of you. If you'll do what we tell you to, we all will have a fine time. Are you ready to begin?"

One of the wee tots cried, "You bet! Some nice cupcakes we want to get." Then Scouty to the other Tynmites, said, "Bring all the baskets out. Be sure that they are filled up high with good things, so the tots can buy." This pleased the tots. They all joined in a very merry shout.

Kind Coppy was the first to sell some of the goods. How he could yell, "Nice pies and cakes!" he shouted. "They are all from the baker's store. I'll sell you all that you can eat and you will find they are a treat. Buy all you can and eat until you can't eat any more."

Then Duncy said, "I've doughnuts, round. The best that ever you have found. A penny each I sell them for. How many would you like?" "A half a dozen," said one tot. "Oh my," cried Duncy, "that is a lot! But, here they are. You surely must be quite a hungry little."

Of course Windy also walked around and in a little while he found a lad whose mother sent him down to get ten loaves of bread. "I won't eat all of it myself. My mom will put it on a shelf and serve it to my father too," the little youngster said.

(The Tynmites arrive back at the baker's in the next story.)

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

DAILY LENTEN DEVOTION

PREPARED BY THE REV. DWIGHT J. BRADLEY
SPONSORED BY
THE FEDERAL COUNCIL OF THE
CHURCHES OF CHRIST IN AMERICA

FRIDAY, MARCH 25

"That the Life Also of Jesus Might Be Made Manifest in Our Mortal Flesh."
(Read II Cor 4:1-18.)

Paul's insight was so searching that he could realize more clearly than any other man what Jesus' death actually signified. In order to understand Paul, we must have shared to some extent his experience with the Light. This we can do if the radiance has been truly shed abroad in our hearts. It was by dying, Paul contends, that Jesus proved Himself to be eternally alive. This sounds paradoxical, an old it is. Good Friday commemorates the Great Paradox of history. The darkness of the world was given full and final opportunity to destroy the Light of the world. No limitation was set upon it. Yet—the darkness was not able to extinguish the Light; because the Light is everlasting and the darkness is transitory. The Light is creative and the darkness is destructive. Destructiveness destroys itself. Infinite very nature of things these facts are embedded. Their supreme, their most sublime, demonstration occurred at the crucifixion of Jesus. Only less sublime, and no less convincing, is their demonstration in the radiant self-sacrifice of every one who gives his life in service.

Prayer—Almighty and Eternal God our Father who commanded the Light to shine out of darkness we thank Thee that Thou has also shined in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of Thy glory in the face of Jesus Christ. Thou knowest that we have this treasure in earthen vessels. O Holy Father even as Thou has raised up Jesus our Lord so also we believe that Thou wilt raise us up by Him for Thy name's sake. Amen.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON

Before Donald Henderson Clarke wrote "The Chastity of Gloria Boyd" he must have read most of the newspaper clippings about the tragic Starr Faithfull case and decided, "What not! Somebody could write a best seller about this sort of thing."

That, at any rate, is the impression you gain from his novel "The Starr Faithfull Case" wasn't exactly pleasant reading, and neither is the book.

It deals with a girl who got away in life to a very bad start.

Her adventures take on a certain sameness, after a time, and when you get to the end of the book Mr. Clarke destroys whatever credibility his tale may have had by conducting the lady into holy matrimony and insisting that in spite of everything she had retained, somehow, an innate purity and fineness.

Maybe so. It reminds me of a murder trial I once attended. The defendant was one of the most villainous-looking thugs ever jailed, with a criminal record as long as from where to Key West; but his attorney assured the jury, tearfully, that "my client, gentlemen, after all is nothing but a big-hearted, overgrown boy."

MAGAZINE GIVES FINE WRITE-UP OF WALGREEN ESTATE

"Townfolk" Illustrates Article About Hazelwood

The Chicago Magazine, "Townfolk," devoted to Society, Travel, Sports and the Fine Arts, in the March issue, has a most interesting feature relative to Charles R. Walgreen and his country estate, Hazelwood, with a number of beautiful page wide illustrations, under the caption, "How a Traditional Barn was Made Into a Home."

The article and pictures tell how Mr. Walgreen renews the memories of his boyhood days on Rock River by making livable as a summer home an estate which is more than one hundred years old. The barn as it was originally is pictured and then the beautiful attractive lodge, "as is," is printed just below it, after the siding, windows, doorway, fireplace and sleeping porch were added.

Shows Attractiveness
Then the remodeled interior of the barn is reproduced in pictures showing the attractively furnished lodge where hospitality is rife, and where many Chicago friends of the Walgreen family delight to come and rest for a few days in the sylvan quiet of this gorgeous woodland, where the trees are one of the most inspiring features of the estate, being two to four hundred years old. The recent severe sleet storm did much damage to various trees on the estate which are being repaired as rapidly as the tree surgeon can work. Mr. Walgreen is extremely fond of trees who as Joyce Kilmer says "look at God all day, and lift their leafy arms to pray," and "who wear a nest of robins in their hair."

The original timbers and beams in the interior of the lodge have not been disturbed in the transaction of barn to house. A staircase replaces the ladders that reached to the hay mow and the mow has been divided into sleeping rooms, the inside walls of which afford openings allowing a view of the charming living room below. The lamps in the wagon wheel fixture which hangs from the roof have forsaken the coal oil for electric bulbs. The colorful living room has not lost the substance of the aged beams and timbers, softly toned by time to a delightful silvery gray. Large woolen rag rugs in soft reds, greens and tans grace the floor and at the windows are home spun drapes in the same colors. The foot rests have been cut from black walnut timber stripped of bark and waxed.

The fireplace is an addition, and is a veritable chimney corner, but with such spacious benches at either side, with charming pillows and drapes. The wood box at the left of the fireplace is the reproduction of an 1834 cradle. In the niches of the fireplace are green bowls filled with bittersweet.

Hazelwood is one of the beauty spots of Rock River valley and Mr. and Mrs. Walgreen are famous for their delightful hospitality.

DEMOCRATS ASK ENROLLMENT OF MILLION YOUTHS

No. Carolinian Heads Move to Enlist New Voters

Raleigh, N.C. (UP)—A young man who has risen rapidly in life during the past four years now is president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America. He will lead the movements enroll 1,000,000 young Democrats by national election time in November.

He is Tyre Taylor, 33-year-old executive council to Governor O. Max Gardner, chairman of the Young People's Democratic Organization of North Carolina, and author of the Ten-Year Plan for the economic rehabilitation of his state.

At a recent nation-wide meeting of Young Democrats in Washington, Taylor was chosen to lead the party in the election and to recruit new young Democrats from the ranks of those who have reached their majority since last election.

Temporary national headquarters for the Young Democratic Clubs of America will be opened here with an executive secretary in charge. Headquarters will be maintained here until after the Democratic National Convention in June.

Taylor is a militant Democrat, with a dash of liberalism. He views the present increasing activity of young Democrats as the first definite stirrings of a major youth movement in the Democratic party.

He has had a varied experience in practical politics, knows his way but is not the usual type of politician of non-communicative, depressed, and inactive mental patients have been subjected to atmospheres exceptionally rich in oxygen, with a result that a number brightened mentally under the stimulus and, some, silent for months, became talkative, others physically inactive stirred about voluntarily or in obedience to commands.

Of course, the improvement lasted only as long as the patients were under the influence of the oxygen-rich air. Subsequently they returned to their former depressed state.

These studies lead to the conclusions that deficiency in the oxidative processes (oxygen use and hence energy transformation) in the nervous system seems to play an important role in the mental conditions classified as schizophrenia, and that the time may not be far distant when we will be able to treat, and prevent these mental conditions, including dementia praecox.

Rabbits Stopped By Bitter Paint On Bark of Tree

Chicago—The war that has been going on for years between fruit growers and the cottontail rabbits because the latter "bark" the trees, thus killing many, looks as if it might be ended, says the Conservation Department of the Izaak Walton League of America in a bulletin which calls attention to a recent scientific discovery.

Professor James A. Neilson, of Michigan State College, successfully working an experiment with a group of rabbits placed in a small orchard. The scientist who apparently has shown how to end the anti-rabbit war by the use of a harmless repellent which makes the bark of the fruit trees taste so nasty that the cottontails won't touch it.

This experiment promises to help both the landowner and the sportsman, as it may end the anti-rabbit drives of orchardists, thus providing more game for the sportsmen.

Professor Neilson took a small orchard and confined 32 rabbits in it this past winter. They had to forage for their food all winter. He applied a mixture of linseed oil and resin, mixed in a comparatively high temperature, to the trunks of some of the trees, but others were left untouched. Those that were "painted" with the dope were labelled. Then he left the orchard so that Nature and the rabbits could take their course.

Now this orchard tells an interesting story. You can see one fruit tree, badly gnawed and chewed by the rabbits, standing next to one that hasn't been touched. The latter was doctored with linseed oil and resin and, although they were mighty hungry, the rabbits wouldn't touch it. Thus it looks as if a simple, inexpensive mixture applied to the bark apparently can end the attacks of cottontails on any farm or in any orchard.

Daily Health Talk

"It is not at all unique to have the diet question arise at social gatherings. Not only the ladies who employ food limitation in an attempt to hold youth, but many men who have become 'stomach conscious,' frequently introduce the subject and discuss it with great zest. And so far as it indicates common sense practices this popular trend is a very excellent one. However, the proper time to begin the application of sound dietary principles is when one is a baby," said Dr. L. W. Naber, Superintendent of the State Health Department's dental section, today.

"Good teeth to last a life time should be cared for properly even before they appear. It should not be forgotten that during the years of two to six, the baby teeth require plenty of coarse or hard food to assure proper mastication. Gum and mouth development can only proceed at its best under those circumstances. Moreover, it is during these years that the permanent teeth are forming; and they demand in the foods consumed vitamins, lime and phosphorus as did the baby teeth. However, in this latter case the child can not rely upon its mother's body to supply deficiencies as it did in the prenatal state, but must obtain these elements direct from the food it eats. Naturally, if the provender is noticeably lacking in these substances, the forming teeth structure and general bone tissue is bound to suffer.

"Fortunately, the diet necessary for the growth of the body as a whole will in most instances satisfy the demands of mouth and tooth development. However, with the arrival of the baby teeth the wise parent will promptly establish contact with the dentist. Baby teeth are exceedingly important, playing a very vital part in mouth and jaw formation. Special diets may be required to keep them in prime condition. And this the dentist will be able to discover. Incidentally, baby teeth need just as much professional care and attention as do the permanent ones.

"In the last analysis, eating is the process designed to sustain life and to sustain it at its very best. Certainly, if the diet question is important to grown-ups, they in turn should display as much interest in it for the helpless little ones for which they are directly responsible.

"A good slogan could well take the following form: 'Eat for health and life's sake from the cradle to the grave.' Thus, and thus only, will mouth health be able to attain and maintain its highest standard. So far as teeth are concerned, diet and the dentist represent a hard combination to defeat."

THE BRAIN'S BREATH

In the last analysis man breathes with his cells, not with his lungs.

The lungs are essential to respiration, for they keep a stream of air containing 21 per cent oxygen, flowing over the rich network of fine blood vessels lining the air cells of the lung tissue.

The oxygen is taken up by the red blood cells, and transported to every portion of the body, and thus made available to its millions of living units, the cells, in which the final act of respiration takes place. Shutting off the necessary oxygen has an injurious, and sometimes deadly effect upon living cells but when the deprivation of oxygen is only partial, not death but altered function results.

This appears to be the case with the brain cells, which have an avid demand for oxygen, and which, when partially asphyxiated, give rise to abnormal mental and physical behavior.

In furtherance of this study the oxygen consumption of mental patients has been measured, and found to be generally subnormal.

Hunt for Lindbergh Baby Gives Son Back to Mother

Mrs. Virginia Hashagen of Kalamazoo, Mich., and two pictures of her son, Billy, a perfect double for Baby Lindbergh, are shown above. Crossville, Tenn., authorities grabbed Billy, two years old, by mistake. But publicity reunited him with his mother, who says he had been carried off by relatives. Lower picture shows Billy at age of three weeks.

By NEA Service—

Crossville, Tenn. — Two-year-old Billy Robert Reed, Jr., almost a perfect double of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, new has a mother of his own.
Mrs. Virginia Hashagen, a waitress of Kalamazoo, Michigan, hitchhiked all the way to Crossville to claim the child. She fainted with joy when she saw him.
But when a photographer tried to get a picture of Billy in her arms, Billy, bewildered, absolutely refused to pose. Mrs. Hashagen says Billy was carried away seven months ago by her mother, Mrs. Daisy Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mitchell, who were arrested here with the child.

Moreover, it developed that in addition to a mother and a grandmother, Billy also has a great-grandmother. The latter is Mrs. W. P. Ross of Paris, Ill., mother of Mrs. Jones, and she sent along a photograph of Billy taken at the age of three weeks, to prove the family identity. For a time Billy had Crossville authorities—and the world at large—at fever heat, after they found him in custody of two strange couples stopping over here. Then Colonel Lindbergh said the baby was not his and the excitement died down.
But since then, little Billy, outfitted with new rompers given him by admirers here, has won the love of everyone.

CHRIST IS RISEN

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went to see the sepulchre.

And behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:
And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.—Matthew 28:1-9.

E. J. KULAS, PRESIDENT OF THE OTIS STEEL COMPANY AND THE MIDLAND STEEL PRODUCTS COMPANY, SAYS:

THAT the period of depression through which the country has been passing may prove to have been of benefit to the country if it restores the old fashioned appreciation of the value of a dollar. For a number of years prior to 1929 the country was going through a period of expansion. Prices were rising, wages were rising, business was getting bigger day by day. The whole tendency was to make the young man just coming up in the world feel that it was not necessary to keep track of his dollars because it was too easy to get more. In the late twenties this fever of expansion developed into a real speculative mania, in which not only a lot of the young business men but many others who were old enough to know better, became obsessed with the idea that hard work was not necessary when fortunes could be made in the markets almost over night.

The depression has been bringing us all back to earth. Many prices are back to the levels obtaining at the beginning of the present century and it is likely that our appreciation of the importance of financial independence will also get to those levels. Thirty years ago the carefully young man watched his expenditures, saved a little out of every pay and when business opportunity presented itself he had money in the bank to take advantage of it. Those were the young men who became our present business leaders. Their sons were unfortunate in coming on the business stage at a period when many of the old fashioned ideas of financial prudence seemed to be on the shelf.

A serious siege of illness sometimes is very good for a man, because it eliminates the poisons from the system and gives the body a chance to function as nature planned. We are quite likely to find that our business body is much more healthy because the illness of drastic depression has burned a lot of the false ideas about easy money out of our systems and left us where we understand THAT WE MUST WORK FOR WHAT WE GET.

DOPE ALL FAVORS ATHLETICS TO WIN PENNANT IN 1932

However, Going May Be Much Harder For Grove, Et Al

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
Jacksonville, Fla., Mar. 25.—(AP)—Path in the New York Yankees, hope in the Washington Senators and a charitable belief in the potency of precedent may combine to make things tough for the Philadelphia Athletics in this year's American League pennant race.

Even so, it is extremely difficult to figure just how Connie Mack's formidable cast can be stopped from making it four in a row, and a league record, unless the opposition has some novel plans, hitherto concealed to check Grove, Earnshaw, Walberg, Simmons, Cochrane and Fox.

So long as the A's have this six-ply backbone, they cannot be regarded otherwise than as strong favorites again to win the American League flag. Their pitching outclasses that of any other club in the league. They have the punch to slug it out with any rival, even the Yankees, and Connie Mack's reserve strength, on which rode down the stretch last season, looks to be even better.

Mack is the only American manager who has ever held a championship combination virtually intact for more than three seasons. He made few changes in the outfit that won four or five pennants from 1910 to 1914. In the past three years of rule, Mack has made only one alteration in the regular lineup, at shortstop. Except for a reversible infield feature, by which Fox moves to third and the newcomer, Oscar Roettger, to first, the Athletics will start the 1932 season with the same lineup that dropped the world series to the Cardinals.

Fears Yankees
Mack admits real fear of the Yankees and their "Murderers' Row," but it is difficult to see how the New Yorkers can displace the A's without big improvement in the pitching corps. The club was the biggest run maker in the majors last season but wound up in second place, 13½ games back of the Mack men. The Yanks have picked up a real star in shortstop Frank Crosetti, who forms a new keystone combination with Otto Saltzger and hope to develop some pitching help for Gomez, Ruffing and Pipgras.

Although the rest of the American League clubs manifest improvement, especially the Browns and White Sox, Washington is the only other one justifiably considered a pennant possibility. The Senators couldn't stand the pace last year but they have speed, pitching and defensive strength, to which has been added the punch of outfielder Carl Reynolds.

Indians Have Sock
If Cleveland could combine its best features with those of Washington, this would be a different story. The Indians carry a real sock, which has been especially damaging to the Yankees, but their defense is spotty and they still lack a first class shortstop. Manager Roger must dream fitfully of the day when he may awake up to find himself with a shortstop like Grover or Gimez. Still, Fack has aces in Ferrell and Averill.

The Browns, best of the second division clubs, have an outside chance to crash the first four, with the aid of excellent pitching and a fast, aggressive attack developed by Bill Killefer.

The Boston Red Sox, who surprised even themselves by finishing sixth last season, rely on pitching to keep them there, despite the death of big Ed Morris. To combat them, Detroit and Chicago both have conducted major shakeups.

Bucky Harris pins the Tigers hopes on improved hitting, plus the return to form of Charlie Gehringer at second base, and a fresh outfield punch. The White Sox, newly in charge of Lew Fonseca, depend on a revamped infield, the return of Ted Lyons to a place among the game's great right handers and the conversion of big Smead Jolley from an outfielder to a catcher.

Winter Haven, Fla.—This is an off-day for the Phillies, giving them a chance to rest before their combat with the Yankees at St. Petersburg tomorrow.

Yesterday was an off-day too, for they were beaten, 5 to 3, by the Newark team—and the 5 o'clock whistle. The game was called after the eighth inning so the Beas could catch a train.

Port Myers, Fla.—A long, hard practice session was ahead of the Athletics today as the result of cancellation of yesterday's schedule game with the Dodgers on account were 2:02½ in the 200 yards, 2:41 for 250 yards, 3:18½ in the 300 yards, and 3:35½ in the 300 meters.

team of Tigers in which only youngsters held down most of the positions.

A lot of the blame, however, must be shouldered on Art Herring, veteran pitcher, who yielded 14 hits in seven innings of indifferent hurling.

Fort Worth, Tex.—The somewhat mysterious Chicago White Sox came to Fort Worth today for two games with the local Cats of the Texas League. The Sox have met no major opposition during training and will encounter none until the American League season opens, leaving critics without much of a line on their ability.

Tampa, Fla.—St. Johnson and Ernest Lombardi have the call when Cincinnati meets the Chicago Cubs in the season's opener April 12. Manager Dan Howley made the decision as a result of their work against the Brooklyn Dodgers Wednesday. The Reds had a day of rest yesterday, with the exception of Babe Herman, who diligently trotted around the park to tune up his legs. Today the Reds meet the Boston Braves at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Team play is to comprise the greater part of the Braves' practice sessions henceforth.

The Boston team has had very little teaching in the fine points of infield play so Manager McKechnie is going to start on that phase of the game immediately. Bating is not to be stressed, for Manager Bill is satisfied that will come slowly but surely.

Savannah, Ga.—Exceptional plays counted for and against Tom Oliver yesterday.

The Red Sox center fielder turned in two brilliant catches on hits that might have gone for extra bases. So when he got up at bat the Hartford team held him to one hit by snatching two hard batted balls.

Biloxi, Miss.—With a scant week left in which to complete the roster of the Washington Senators, Manager Walter Johnson is having a time discovering anything to brag about in the way of new pitching material.

Johnny Boyle and Bud Thomas didn't help him or themselves any by allowing Spring Hill College of Mobile to come within one run of tying the Senators' twelve tallies in yesterday's game. The choice for the one open place appears to lie between Bob Friedrich, Lynn Griffith and Frank Ragland, the latter having done the best work so far.

San Diego, Cal.—The Detroit Tiger recruits, taken as a team, apparently aren't so hot. That, at least, is one inference that might be drawn from yesterday's game which Hollywood won, 14 to 10, from a search for a dependable left hander apparently is no nearer success than ever.

Frank (Dutch) Henry, who had worked for the Tigers, the White Sox and the Giants, made such an impression with Minneapolis last year that the Cubs hired him. Yesterday he was blasted out of action by the Missions and may be turned over to Los Angeles.

Bradenton, Fla.—Max Carey still is looking around for a trade to strengthen his Brooklyn Dodgers.

With Del Bissonette out of action for five or six weeks, Carey must solve the first base problem before the season starts and the only answer may be a trade.

Los Angeles—So pleased is Manager John McGraw with training conditions here that he already has decided to bring his New York Giants to Los Angeles again next year.

The Giants have been here since Feb. 18 and not once has the weather interfered with practice sessions.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—The New York Yankees haven't even started yet in the season which they hope will bring them the American League pennant, but if they do win the flag they have an idea that they ought to do well in the world's series.

So far in the training campaign the Yanks have claimed ten times with National League teams and have won eight of the games.

Sports Parade

By HENRY McEMORE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, March 25.—(UP)—A second or two before the gong sent them out for the 12th round, one of his managers, from a safe and comfortable seat in the third row, sent word to Battalino, prize fighter, to "go in there, drop your guard, and fight like hell."

You should have seen Bat when the message was relayed to him by a second.

Across the bridge of his fractured nose was a gash an eighth of an inch wide, through which the bone showed. From his ears to his waist he was coated with half-dried blood. Blood poured from a cut over his left eye that, like its brother, was swollen and bruised. And even as he sat, his legs trembled with exhaustion.

Then somebody smacked the gong and Bat got to his feet. He obeyed orders. With both hands cocked in a position that afforded the maximum in attack in the minimum in defense, he plunged across the ring toward Billy Petrolle and cut loose with a looping right. He took a left hook square on his smashed nose, and as he rocked back on his heels a shower of rights and lefts splattered his face.

On his last legs now, Bat took his first backward step of the fight. As he retreated Petrolle showered him with short wicked punches that left him hanging over the top strand like a wet shirt, and just as helpless.

That was the finish. Referee Gumbo Smith, who all through the 11 bloody rounds had showed about as much concern as a man fixing a blowout, waved Petrolle to his corner, and helped Bat to his. A few minutes later the Connecticut boy was stretched out on a rubber table, mumbling to three doctors what he'd do to Petrolle in "the next round."

A few more beatings like he took last night and there won't be any more "next rounds" for the former featherweight champion. For more than 11 rounds—34 minutes and one second to be exact—he caught and took all the punches the hardest hitter for 1½ weight in the world could throw. Blessed with no real punch himself and almost a novice at defense, Bat had to rely solely on a great fighting heart. It was all he had. It earned him a thunderous tribute to his gameness when he was helped from the ring, but this just as sure as you're born—it will earn him a job cutting paper dolls unless he develops something to go with it.

The fight should have been stopped as early as the fifth round when it was apparent that the cut on Bat's nose was not going to yield to treatment. But as one of the ringsiders observed, the crowd, having paid eight dollars a head to get in, would have yelled to the high heavens, had the judges and referee stopped it when Bat still had enough strength to wade in and attack. That, of course doesn't excuse the officials for allowing a public massacre.

Petrolle, save for a slight cut over his right eye suffered in a head on collision, was unmarked. While he dressed the old Through Express, talked of nothing but his opponent's gameness.

"That bird," said Billy, "is the gamest guy they ever tied a glove on. I never asked any quarter or gave any. I didn't hear or see him do it. I hated to hit him there at the last but I couldn't help it. As long as you're in there between the ropes, you must look out for yourself. Lawdy, he's got a fightin' heart."

PETROLLE CUT BAT TO PIECES TO WIN BY K. O.

Fargo Express Showed His Class In Real Slugging Match

New York, Mar. 25.—(AP)—Perhaps he doesn't care for that sort of thing but it seems an undoubted injustice that Billy Petrolle never gets a whack at a fistie championship.

Considered in many quarters the greatest fighting man now in the ring, a logical contender for either the lightweight or welterweight title, the Duluth veteran is just as far away from a championship as he ever was.

To his string of victories over Jimmy McLarnin, Justo Suarez, Eddie Ran and Billy Townsend Petrolle added another last night—a one-sided triumph over Christopher (Bat) Battalino of Hartford, Conn., former world's featherweight champion.

A near capacity crowd of 18,000 spectators looked on uneasily as Petrolle cut Battalino to pieces with vicious rights and lefts to the head, brought blood streaming from a dozen cuts, and finally stopped him after one minute and 31 seconds of the 12th and final round.

Petrolle Favored
Despite Battalino's series of spectacular triumphs over Kid Chocolate, Fidel Labarba, Al Singer, Earl Mastro and Eddie Ran, Petrolle was the betting favorite at 7 to 5 as they entered the ring.

The Hartford boy committed fistic suicide by carrying the fight to the Duluth slugger. Battalino had gained his most notable victories by his eternal aggressiveness and he thought he could whip Petrolle that way. But Billy was too wily for him. As Battalino tore in, Billy retreated, firing damaging punches into Bat's face and body.

In the third round he nailed Battalino with a smashing right uppercut that slashed the Hartford boy's nose to the bone and before the bout was over Battalino was bleeding from cuts over both eyes as well as from the nose.

Through round after round Battalino gamely stood up under terrific punishment but he finally weakened in the 12th. Two smashing punches to the body made Battalino sway. Another volley to the head sent him reeling into the ropes. Still he refused to go down but he obviously was out on his feet and Referee Gumbo Smith stepped in and awarded the fight to Petrolle on a technical knockout.

Petrolle weighed 139 pounds; Battalino 135.

MARKSMEN SHOT IN INDIVIDUAL MATCH LAST EVE

Wagner Of Dixon Was High Man In Con- tested Events

The annual individual matches of the Black Hawk Rifle league were held in the Coliseum in Sterling last evening. Twenty-one men, three from each of the seven clubs in the league, completed. There were originally eight in the league, but after the Co. A 129th Inf. team, of Dixon dropped out, their place was taken by the Sterling high school team which was not allowed to compete. The other organizations in the league are:

Dixon Rifle Club, Co. M 129th Inf., of Sterling, Rock Falls Independents, Frantz Mfg. Co. Rifle Team of Sterling, Erie Rifle Club, Harmon Rifle Club, and Lee Center Rifle Club.

The matches thus far this season were team matches, each team meeting the others twice, making a total of fourteen league matches for each. The matches last night were for individual awards, six medals being awarded for the season. Only the three highest men in each organization were allowed to shoot, but the twenty-one thus left in the final fight were the pick of two hundred and eighty riflemen.

Each man's average match score for the season counted fifty per cent and his score in the match counted fifty per cent.

The result follows:

Match	Av.	Sc.	Tot.
Wagner, R. Dixon	183.1	184	367.1
Brown, W. Co. M	176.7	184	360.7
Battles, H. Co. M.	178.4	182	360.4
La Cour, A. Dixon	173.2	185	358.2
Thompson, E.	169.1	185	354.1
Rhodenbaugh, Har-	169.2	181	350.2
Dwight Chapman, Dixon's third	168.3	181	349.3

The final event of the season will be a banquet to be given at the Coliseum at Sterling, Thursday evening, March 31. At that time medals and team trophies will be awarded. An interesting program has been arranged during which rifle and target shooting will be discussed.

KEWANEE NOSED OUT BENTON IN TOURNEY GAME

Will Meet The Powerful
Morton High Team
This Evening

SEMI-FINAL GAMES TONIGHT
7:30 P. M.—Canton vs Lawrenceville.
8:30 P. M.—Kewanee vs Morton (Cicero.)

THURSDAY'S RESULTS
Canton 19; Springfield 12.
Lawrenceville 31; Rantoul 21.
Kewanee 12; Benton 11.
Morton (Cicero) 29; Hillsboro 12.

Champaign, Ill., Mar. 25.—(AP)—Illinois annual high school basketball tournament entered its second round here today with Kewanee, Morton High of Cicero, Canton and Lawrenceville still in the running.

Canton and Lawrenceville will meet in the first game of semi-final play tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The Morton-Kewanee game will follow. Opinion of followers of the sport tonight placed Lawrenceville and Morton as favorite to win the championship. Kewanee's stock was boosted considerably by the surprise the upstate school handed Benton's rangers last night. The score was 12 to 11, but it represented a triumph that seemed to have been calculated by the winners. Benton had been dooped to go to the final game.

Kewanee's players showed deliberate, thoughtful play. They worked the ball around the Rangers and matched the southerners with their own brand of play. Benton led at the half, 8 to 4, but could not maintain this advantage.

Morton Has Power
Morton displayed plenty of offensive power in smothering Hillsboro 25 to 12. Its drive was harder and faster than that maintained by Lawrenceville in the afternoon when Rantoul fell 31 to 21. Lawrenceville depends more on the accurate long range shooting of Scaggs and Smith rather than on the drive such as that made by Vopicka and Kopecky of Morton. Canton appeared to be the weakest team of the four that came through the first round. The 19 to 12 victory the Ploewboys scored over Springfield was hardly an indication of what could be done against a stronger team.

Crowds that packed the University of Illinois gymnasium here yesterday are expected to be swollen to capacity today. Five thousand attended each session of the opening round of officials estimated.

Weger of Lawrenceville led the scoring for the first day with 15 points. Kopecky of Morton, Vandermeer, Canton and Mester, Springfield, each got ten points.

33 STATES VOTING OVER TWO TO ONE AGAINST DRY LAW

3,000,000 Ballots Are Tabulated In Poll Of Lit. Digest

Thirty-three States are voting more than 3 to 1 wet as over three million ballots from all forty-eight States are tabulated in The Literary Digest's nation wide Prohibition Poll, as announced in to-morrow's issue of the magazine.

The thirty-three States represented in this wet group have a combined population of over 86,000,000 people, as enumerated in the latest census figures.

Eight of these States register a vote of more than 4 to 1 for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. 3,404,036 votes are tallied this week in the "straw" referendum of which 783,175, or 25.1 per cent are dry, and 2,376,861, or 74.9 per cent are wet.

The dry vote scores a fifth consecutive gain this week raising from 15.85 per cent of the total vote of the first weeks returns to 25.1 per cent in the current sixth tabulation.

Kansas is still the only State voting bone dry, but North Carolina is within a fraction of one percent of registering a vote for continuance of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Tennessee are voting over 45 per cent dry.

Initial returns are reported in the current tabulation from Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah. The dryest of these is Idaho, home state of Senator Borah with a vote of 32.16 per cent for continuance.

The first returns from Nevada of 86.82 per cent for repeal make it the wettest state to date, gaining first place from New York in the anti-Prohibition column.

The District of Columbia is voting 22.09 per cent for continuance and 77.91 per cent for repeal of the Prohibition Amendment.

Doctor William S. Woods, Editor-in-chief of the magazine, stated that he anticipates nearly two million more returns in the poll judging from present incoming ballots.

In a symposium upon the recent wet-dry test vote in the House of Representatives, The Literary Digest notes that public opinion as reflected by its Prohibition Poll is decidedly wetter than public opinion as represented by the congressmen who voted on the Beck-Lithium resolution.

"Six debutant states now make their bows," The Literary Digest will state in its issue tomorrow, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah.

"Not one of them could truthfully sing 'How Dry I Am'."

"Appropriately enough the nearest approach to dryness among them is found in the returns from Senator Borah's home state. They are very small returns so far, but the percentage in favor of continuance of the Eighteenth Amendment is 32.1."

"The dry percentages of the other debutant states are: Arizona 25.90; Montana 20.41; Nevada 13.18; New Mexico 48; Utah; 30.96."

"But here is some dry encouragement. North Carolina is rapidly overhauling Kansas and seems to be getting ready to jump over the 50 per cent fence into dry territory."

"All along she has hovered near the border-line but on the wet side. Last week her dry percentage was 48.32. This week it was 49.52. Now watch that lady jump."

"Only four other states show up with less than 60 per cent wet vote. These are Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee and Oklahoma."

"Practical men of public affairs do not question the information furnished by the Literary Digest's polls. They have known them too long and seen them proved to the hilt."

"They know, too, that The Digest is just as impartial toward Prohibition as toward the Tariff, the Dole War Debts, the League of Nations, or any other public question that might reach an acute stage and become a judicious subject for a national straw vote."

The sixth report in the 1930 Literary Digest Prohibition Poll, asking three questions instead of two, showed a total tabulation of 3,176,873 of which 915,681, or about 28 per cent were for enforcement, 951,475, or nearly 30 per cent for modification, and 1,309,816 or nearly 41 per cent were for repeal.

In The Literary Digest's Prohibition Poll in 1922, the sixth week's tabulation showed a total of 708,805 ballots returned of which 271,964 were for strict enforcement, 290,172 for modification and 146,667 for repeal.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

BY UNITED PRESS
Washington, March 25.—The mail of Congressmen has been heavily laden this week with letters commenting on their votes cast a week ago Monday on the prohibition question. The House, it will be remembered, by a vote of 187 to 227 ruled against consideration of a resolution which would permit the states again to pass on the prohibition question.

Few issues passed upon by Congress in recent years have brought the reaction from constituents which the prohibition vote has stirred up. There is some feeling that not all of it is spontaneous although national prohibition and anti-prohibition organizations have inspired any of the mail. It is considered quite probable, however, that in some localities at least local organizations have made it a point to commend or condemn Congressmen for their vote or have suggested that members do it.

It is interesting to note that in at least one case where the vote of a leading dry Congressman was incorrectly reported in an important paper of his district and his constituents were told that he had voted against instead of for prohibition, not a single protest has yet come to him.

The copy of Kirkham's Grammar which Abraham Lincoln studied at the age of 22 and then gave to Ann Rutledge, has taken its place in the Congressional Library in a case beside the Lincoln family Bible. In it is scrawled in Lincoln's own handwriting the inscription:

"Ann H. Rutledge is studying grammar."

Lincoln was working in Denton Offutt's store in New Salem, Ill. when he heard of the presence of the grammar in the community. He walked 11 miles to get it. Then he studied it by firelight and when he had mastered it, gave it to his sweetheart.

It came to the library through the efforts of Miss Jane Hamand of Schaller, Iowa. She was interested in Lincolniana and became curious as to what had happened to the famous grammar. Tracing family histories, she located three descendants of the Rutledge family and even taking if they knew the fate of the book. William Rutledge of Milton, Montana, son of Ann Rutledge's brother, wrote that he had it. He then loaned it to Miss Hamand and later consented to it being sent to the library here.

THE QUALITY GROCERS OF THE MIDDLE WEST SINCE 1899

FRIEND TOLD HIM ABOUT ALL-BRAN

And It Brought Relief From Constipation

Those who are bothered with constipation should read Mr. Gelpke's unsolicited letter:

"I have suffered with constipation for years. A friend of mine told me to try ALL-BRAN. I have taken ALL-BRAN for the past six weeks as a breakfast food. It has regulated my bowels as clockwork. Now I would not be without a package at all times." — Mr. Leslie Gelpke, 273 Ridgewood Ave., Newark, N. J.

Common constipation—with its headaches, loss of appetite, sleeplessness—is due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. Both are present in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Being a natural corrective, ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of pills and drugs—so often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonsful daily—serious cases with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

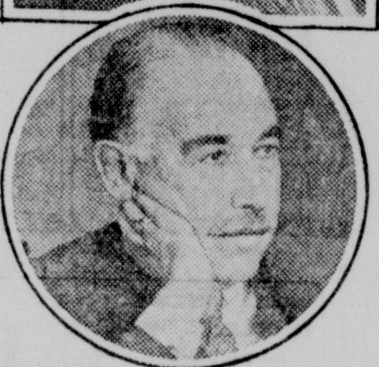

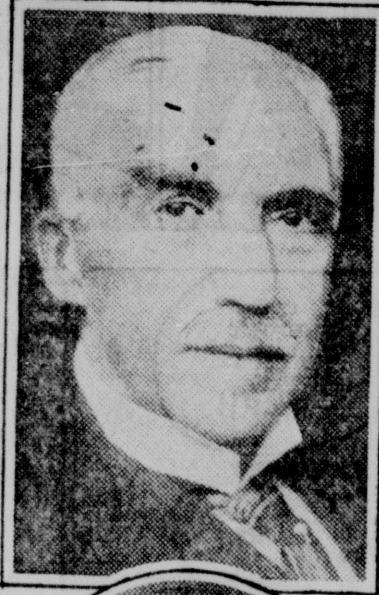

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WHAT MELLON BILLIONS MEAN

Here's New Estimate of Family Fortune, Made
London to Serve U.

on Eve of Andrew W. Mellon's Departure for
S. as Ambassador

$7,990,425,178

By NEA Service—
Pittsburgh, Pa. — Seven billion, nine hundred and ninety million, four hundred and twenty-five thousand, one hundred and seventy-eight dollars is an awful lot of money.

It is nearly twice the amount of the following:
All the money in the United States Treasury. ($4,227,734,850.)
All the gold held in the United States Treasury. ($4,955,821,268.)
All the expenses of the federal government in the year of 1931 ($4,219,950,339.)

All the money appropriated by Congress to run the government during the year 1932 ($4,674,073,971.)
All the money in circulation in the United States ($4,821,833,457.)
It is approximately half of the amount of the public debt of the United States.

It is 16 times the annual fire loss in the United States ($500,000,000.)
Made into gold bars the size of the average building brick it would make nearly 160,000 such bricks valued at $50,000 each.

Distributed equally among the population of the United States, it would mean approximately $65 for each man, woman and child.

Yes, $7,990,425,178 is an awful lot of money — and this is the vast family fortune controlled by Andrew W. Mellon of Pittsburgh, retiring secretary of the United States treasury, who leaves America soon to take up his position as the new U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain.

The fortune, according to a survey made by William Preston Beazell for World's Work magazine, lies with three brothers, Andrew Mellon, Richard B. Mellon and James R. Mellon, and their children.

Andrew Mellon and Richard R. Mellon are partners and heads of the vast chain of Mellon industries and banks. James Ross Mellon, now 86, is president of Pittsburgh's City Deposit Bank and active in many other lines of finance.

The family fortune of the Mellons is estimated as follows:

Personal wealth, $500,000,000.
Banks resources at last call, $787,300,587.

Assets of companies controlled outright, $1,120,767,536. These include the $499,000,000 Gulf Oil Corporation, the $242,786,667 Aluminum Company of America, the Koppers Company, the Carborundum Company, and a dozen close corporations in various lines.

Assets of companies dominated through stockholdings and directorates $304,600,000 United Gas Company, the $246,153,847 Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., the Pittsburgh Coal Company, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, the Westinghouse Airbrake Company, the National Union Insurance Companies and others.

Assets of companies dominated through stockholdings, 4,075,744,830. (This includes the $1,244,979,018 United States Electric Power Company, the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, the Pullman Company, the Niagara Hudson Light — Power Co., and others.)

And all to the grand total of $7,990,425,178.

Not taking into consideration in this huge figure is the fact that, through his membership on the

BRITAIN'S NEW TARIFF BILL IS HITTING SNAGS

Favored Nation Provisions Cause Officials Trouble

London, (UP)—Britain's import duties bill has struck its first snag. The bill, which went into effect March 1, levies a ten per cent general duty on goods, with certain exceptions imported from all foreign countries. It also authorizes the government to decree that the duties shall not be charged against goods from any specified foreign country.

This provision was inserted to enable the negotiation of preference agreements with foreign countries which offer an unfettered market for British goods. In framing that provision the drafters of the bill had in mind chiefly Argentina and Denmark.

Now government officials are seeking a means of putting this provision into effect without jeopardizing Britain's trade relations with other nations. Most favored nation agreements, which Britain has concluded with 40 of the chief countries of the world, with the exceptions of France and Belgium, are the chief difficulty.

The agreements all provide that Britain cannot grant customs preferences to any one nation without making the preference automatically applicable to the nation with which she has concluded an agreement including the most favored nation clause.

The most favored nation principal has been Britain's most traditional commercial policy since 1860, when the first such agreement was signed with Denmark.

Twenty-eight of Britain's most favored nation agreements can be terminated within 15 days to one year by simply giving notice of intention to abrogate the agreement.

RURAL ROUTES ON DIRT ROADS ARE IN DANGER

Postmaster Calls Attention To Moves For Economy

The possibility of discontinuance of service to rural patrons on rural mail routes where improved roads do not exist, was discussed by Postmaster John E. Moyer today. In announcing a proposed plan of consolidation of rural routes and the action to be taken where unimproved roads now exist, the Postmaster gave out the following statement to the Telegraph:

"Farmers living on dirt roads, which have been designated as rural mail routes, had better contact with their road commissioners and secure their promise to hard surface such roads, as there it is possible in the future that mail service will be withdrawn from such roads.

"I have no authority to say that such action will be taken; however, at this time there is great pressure being brought to bear by the Congress to reduce expenses in all departments of government service, and along the line it is proposed to consolidate rural mail routes, giving perhaps 100 per cent more work, yet the additional compensation will be far from double the present. If this plan is carried out it will be impossible for the carrier to negotiate the dirt roads many times during the year, so there is grave danger that service on such roads will be cut off.

"This may seem a radical move, but patrons living on such roads can forestall such a condition by being forewarned, and insist upon the highway commissioner and town board giving this matter their serious consideration. Immediate action should be taken to remedy such a situation."

MRS. O'NEILL ENTERS RACE FOR ASSEMBLY

Illinois Woman Again Seeks Seat As Representative

Downer's Grove, Ill. (UP)—Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downer's Grove, the first woman ever elected to the Illinois General Assembly, again is seeking a seat as State Representative after an absence of two years.

Mrs. O'Neill is one of the 33 women seeking political office in Illinois this year. She was a candidate for State Senator at the 1930 election, but was defeated by Senator Richard J. Barr, Republican, Joliet.

After being defeated, Mrs. O'Neill became an independent candidate for election as United States Senator from Illinois in 1930. She had the support of the Anti-Saloon League and received approximately 100,000 votes.

Her candidacy for United States Senator served to emphasize a bitter enmity between her and Ruth Hanna McCormick, Illinois' first and, to date only congresswoman.

The enmity started when Mrs. O'Neill was a legislator.

It was her enmity toward Mrs. McCormick that is believed to have caused Mrs. O'Neill to make the race as an independent candidate in the election of United States Senator two years ago. Both women were defeated by James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, Chicago, by a plurality of approximately 75,000 votes.

At the coming primary election Mrs. O'Neill will be one of the eleven persons seeking the nomination for State Representative in her district. Because of the large field her local politicians concede she will win the nomination if she can hold her usual strong support among women voters, which she has heretofore always been able to do.

The dime-a-dance girl

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELLEN ROSSITER, beautiful 20-year-old, loves LARRY HARROWGATE, young artist. When he becomes engaged to another girl Ellen agrees to marry STEVEN BARCLAY, 27 years old and wealthy. Her impoverished family is indebted to Barclay.

Barclay has been married before. Scandal accompanied his Mexican divorce from LIDA GRAYSON, dancer. To avoid publicity Ellen and Barclay are secretly married. They drive to his Long Island home, deserted except for FERGUS, the butler. There Barclay suffers a heart attack. LOUIS SYMES, Barclay's lawyer, writes with doctors and nurses. Barclay dies at dawn.

Symes tells Ellen her marriage is not legal because papers proving Barclay's divorce have been stolen. Ellen yields all claims to Barclay's fortune to avoid scandal. Then she learns Larry Harrowgate is Barclay's nephew. Heartbroken, she returns home.

Ellen distracts Fergus. She goes back to work as a hostess at Dreamland. Larry comes there, tells her his engagement is broken and asks her to marry him. Ellen has not the courage to tell him of her marriage to Barclay.

Larry shows Ellen an anonymous letter he has received threatening to tell newspapers that Barclay died as a result of a night of carousal with a feminine companion. Ellen knows Fergus has written the letter.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLV

DAYS slid by in which nothing happened. Two weeks—three weeks and no more was heard of Fergus. Larry had sent the money to the anonymous claimant. Once or twice he mentioned the matter, congratulating himself that he had handled it successfully. Ellen, her heart pounding, would agree that he had done the only thing that was to be done. She was half-till from waiting and worrying. A sense of impending disaster was always with her. A dozen times she had started to tell Larry everything and a dozen times a word from him, a gesture, an expression had stopped her.

Larry came often to the Brooklyn apartment these days. He and Molly had patched up their differences, had even come to like each other. Larry and Mike were close friends. It was Larry who had stood by when Mike essayed his first attempt to walk on crutches. All Mike's women folk had been ruled out of the room lest the boy should fall. They had been called in after the first walk was a triumph.

The apartment which was to be Ellen's and Larry's home was decorated and furnished. Larry fretted over the plain gold ring in his pocket and with fits of feverish impatience insisted that he and Ellen race to City Hall so that she might wear that ring, too. Always she refused. The reason she gave was that she had not met his mother. Although Larry had never confessed it the girl knew Mrs. Harrowgate had refused to meet her. She knew that the refusal distressed Larry. Thus the happiness of the engagement days alternated with moods of black despair.

THEN on a Friday three weeks later there was a change. The blustery fall day began just as any other day with a haphazard breakfast shared by Molly and Ellen and served on the card table in Mike's bedroom. Everything was friendly and homelike with Molly's chatter of the coming marriage to make it so. Molly knew nothing of the blackmailing letters to Larry, knew nothing of Ellen's secret fears and tremors. Ellen had thought it better to keep her own counsel. So Molly could rattle on, serene and confident, absorbed in wedding plans.

"But there's Larry's mother," Ellen offered in a subdued way.

"Old cat!" Molly said rebelliously, breaking a piece of toast.

"You shouldn't talk that way," Ellen protested though in secret agreement. "After all," she added soberly, "Larry's her only son."

"You're quite as good as he is and he has the sense to know it even if his mother hasn't. Our family—the English branch of it any way—is every bit as good as the Harrowgates, even if we don't happen to be in the Social Register."

"She hasn't been exactly anxious to meet me," Ellen said.

"Here, use your napkin," Molly spoke hurriedly to Mike. Returning to Ellen, she observed, "Well, Larry thinks you're all right and personally I'd rather have my husband think I was perfect than his mother."

"I suppose there is something in that," Ellen conceded with a rueful laugh.

At 10 o'clock Larry arrived unexpectedly. He was in the mood Ellen loved best. Bursting into the living room he swept her into his arms and did a mad dance.

"We're going to be married in two weeks," he sang out. "Everything's fixed. And you're going to meet Mother today."

"But—but—" Ellen stammered. "How did you manage it?" Proud color stained her cheeks.

"Now Ellen, is that nice?" Larry reproached. "You'll have to take Mother as she is," he said slowly, uncomfortably. "I'll be honest. Getting her to come around did take some managing. I did it by casually mentioning that high hat English aunt of yours. Mother tumbled. Like all Americans she thinks an English countess is one of God's chosen."

FOR a moment Ellen felt a pang of disappointment and hurt pride but Larry's pleasure and eagerness carried her along. After all she wanted to marry him. It was up to her to make his mother come to care for her.

"Does your mother understand," she asked quietly, "that none of us has seen Aunt Myra for years?"

"I told her that. And she wants you to come to tea this afternoon," Larry flushed triumphantly.

"This afternoon! But I haven't a thing to wear!"

Larry knew she had surrendered. "You've got of things," he said firmly. "Even if you hadn't sweetheart, you'd be a queen to me in calico."

He really meant that. Ellen fumbled with pleasure and went to tell Molly. All three of them bubbled and laughed and planned through the luncheon preparations. Afterwards Larry helped dry the dishes and then departed.

"An errand for Mother," he explained. "She wants some things from my uncle's place. Since the suit has been settled it belongs to her. You know the house is quite a show place." He interrupted himself to say suddenly, "Why don't you go out with me?"

"To—to your uncle's home?" Sleet drummed against the window panes but inside was utter silence. Ellen was conscious of an inward trembling. She glanced toward Molly and saw that her mother's face was pale.

"There'd be plenty of time," Larry urged. "I think you'd like to see the place."

"I have seen it," Ellen said, swallowing.

Larry turned in surprise. "I told you that your uncle was a friend of mine. He took me there once," she concluded weakly.

It was Molly who came to the rescue. "I'm sorry but Ellen can't go," she said firmly. "I'll need her here."

Larry returned at exactly four o'clock. In spite of all her resolution Ellen was frightened. She felt young and inexperienced and sat close to Larry as the car sped through whirling snow up Park Avenue. Above them lights twinkled against the early dusk. They stopped at a towering apartment house, entered a jewel box of an elevator and were lifted upward.

Ellen drew a deep breath. Her eyes were like stars and her cheeks were blazing. With Larry she entered a richly furnished, warmly lighted apartment. The curtains were drawn and there was a crackling fire in the grate.

Bandit Got Facial
In Beauty Parlors

Chicago, Mar. 24—(AP)—A bandit went into a beauty parlor last night and came out with a facial, but it was not the kind you'd expect.

That's because he was foolish enough to argue with Mrs. Catherine Summerfield, a customer, whose hands were mightier than his pistol. "You," said Mrs. Summerfield, "are a coward" as she proceeded to slap his face.

He denied the charge and slapped back, but Mrs. Summerfield wasn't finished, so she slapped him again until his face was red.

That was too much for him, so he fled without taking the $1,500 worth of jewelry Mrs. Summerfield was wearing.

Gets 60 Days For Stealing A Train

O'Neil, Nob., Mar. 24—(AP)—There's no law in Nebraska against moving a train, so Wilton Wyatt stands convicted merely of vagrancy.

He opened the throttle of a freight engine while trainmen were eating lunch and piloted it half a mile out of town. Authorities believed him intoxicated.

County Judge C. J. Malone sentenced Wyatt to sixty days in jail for vagrancy.

'Manchuria Plus Jehol'; Newest Of States in Orient

Washington, D. C.—The creation of the world's newest proposed state has just been proclaimed from what heretofore has been known as "Manchuria." The announced sponsor for the projected government is the Northwestern Administrative Committee. So far, four names have been bestowed on the new state, in rapid succession: Ankuo, Daido (meaning "Great Union"), Manchoukuo ("Land of Manchuria"), and Tatung ("Great Unity"). Until a name is finally settled upon, the new territorial unit might well be called, descriptively, "Manchuria plus Jehol," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Large as Union of South Africa
"Although the name of the proposed state seems to shift over night," continues the bulletin, "its territorial make-up is reasonably definite. In it are included the three provinces that heretofore have made up Manchuria. Liaoning (also known as Fengtien and as Mukden Province), Kirin, and Heilung (also known as Amur Province). To these have been added Jehol, hitherto the adjacent province of Inner Mongolia, to the west. The proposed state thus starts with approximately 443,000 square miles, an area almost as great as that of the Union of the South Africa.

The gleading state of Manchuria and Jehol lies far in the north and has a severe winter climate. If a state of the same shape and area were marked out between corresponding latitudes in North America it would embrace roughly parts of Quebec and Ontario as far north as Hudson Bay; would cover all of New England, save a narrow coastal strip would include all of New York and Pennsylvania, northern sections of Ohio and Indiana, all of Michigan, and all the Great Lakes except Superior. To complete the map picture it would be necessary to widen and lengthen Chesapeake Bay greatly to correspond with the connected gulfs of Chilli and Liaotung, and to have it extend into southern Pennsylvania. This would constitute the region's only salt water outlet.

World's Most Fertile Lands

"In Asia's new territorial unit is a population of approximately 33,500,000 yet large regions are sparsely peopled. The greatest density of population is in Liaoning, the southernmost and smallest province, and the least density is in Heilung, the northernmost and largest. Among the cultivated sections are some of the most fertile lands to be found in the world, arge areas of tillable land are still undeveloped.

"The new state is the world's leading grower of soy beans, producing annually nearly a quarter of a billion bushels. Approximately one-half of the production is exported. In the months following harvest, the long freight trains loaded with beans, roll ceaselessly down to the ports where ships of every nation wait to transport them to all the continents. This bean traffic is one of the chief sources of income for the Manchurian railways.

"In addition to beans, there is a heavy production of wheat, millet, maize, and grain sorghum on the rich acres of Manchuria and Jehol. The livestock industry reaches large proportions in some regions. In the north are extensive forests, and farther south are vast coal fields and coal fields and sizeable deposits of iron ore.

Capital at Northern End

"In choosing a capital for the new state, the committee passed over Mukden, long the capital of Manchuria, and Harbin, the metropolis, and designated Changchun (also called Kuanchengtz'u), the third city in size. This choice may have been dictated by a desire to place the administrative activities in a central location; for with the addition of Jehol, Changchun becomes much nearer the geographic center of the new state than Mukden, and much nearer the population center than Harbin.

"There are also strong political and economic reasons for the choice. Changchun marked the northern advance of the Japanese forces during the Japanese-Russian War in 1905, and has since remained the northern terminus of the Japanese-owned South Manchuria Railway. The railway north from Changchun for 147 miles to Harbin has been owned and controlled jointly by Russian and Chinese as a part of the Chinese Eastern Railway system. This stretch from Changchun to Harbin, like the east-west portion of the Chinese Eastern, is of a five foot gauge, whereas the South Manchurian Railway has the standard American gauge of 4 feet 8 1/2 inches. It has been necessary to train-ships freight at Changchun and the town state, the committee passed over Mukden, long the capital of Manchuria, and Harbin, the metropolis, and designated Changchun (also called Kuanchengtz'u), the third city in size. This choice may have been dictated by a desire to place the administrative activities in a central location; for with the addition of Jehol, Changchun becomes much nearer the geographic center of the new state than Mukden, and much nearer the population center than Harbin.

"The Melting Pot" of Manchuria
"Like many other cities of Manchuria, Changchun has an Old Town and a New Town. The New Town has sprung up since 1905 and centers around the imposing station of the Japanese railway. It has plazas and parks, its streets are broad, and its buildings modern. A mile and a third away lies the Old Town, inclosed by a wall, save on the side bounded by a tributary of the Sungari River. The main street is surprisingly wide, but there is marked congestion in other streets. Together, the towns have a population of between 80,000 and 100,000. "Changchun has been called 'the melting pot of Manchuria.' On its streets, constantly astir with bustle and excitement, one brushes shoulders with Manchus, Mongols, and Chinese, Japanese, Russians, Europeans and Americans. Primitive carts loaded with sacked beans pass in long strings, competing with occasional motor trucks. Passengers ride in Russian droshkies, jinrikishas, and American motor cars. "Added evidence that Changchun is a melting pot comes when one views its varied houses of worship. There are Christian churches, Lamaist, and Shinto temples, Mohammedan mosques, and numerous shrines. Among the latter is one that might be called a Mammon shrine. It is for the veneration of an oriental god of wealth."

Cermak Promises To Pay All After July

Chicago, Mar. 24—(AP)—A promise from Mayor Anton Cermak that there would be no more empty pay envelopes for municipal employees after July came today to the city's unpaid school teachers and other workers along with a $4,133,000 cash payroll.

Mayor Cermak speaking extemporaneously last night at a political rally, said additional checks would be forthcoming next week and all of the city obligations to its employees—$23,000,000 in back salaries due 18,000 teachers alone and more millions due other workers—would be paid off entirely by July.

The city's credit, he said, has been strengthened by reorganization of the county's assessing machinery under the Kelly Plan, which ousted the elected Board of Assessors and substituted an efficiency expert. Money is coming in from taxpayers who in past years struck in protest to what they called unfair assessments against real estate and banks have renewed purchases of tax anticipation warrants heartened by the change in the tax situation.

MORE PROOF of RIVERSIDE QUALITY

Montgomery Ward & Co.

Gentlemen:

Three years ago in July I purchased a Riverside 33x6.00 for my Studebaker Commander. This tire was in service on the rear wheel for two and one-half years before being changed over to the front. It gave 49,126 miles of continuous service without ever being off the rim, and my car has had hard wear, traveling over many miles of rough country roads. Such service as rendered by that tire is certainly worthy of publicity. I have never seen anything like it in automobile tires.

Sincerely yours, W. C. Bailey

This interesting letter from Mr. Bailey is one of many thousands in our files. It was entirely voluntary—sent to us without solicitation. Nothing was paid for it. It is a genuine expression of gratitude for meritorious service.
